

Models of Ministry Networking

Intersection Networking

- Each ministry maintains existing mandates, strategies, structure and function.
- The ministries maintain partnership in the specific area where their mandates and strategies intersect while respecting the continuing structure, function and strategies of each ministry.
- This is usually a partnership that is limited to a specific ministry assignment or project rather than an ongoing participation.
- This is the model that Aglow usually follows.

Recruitment Networking

- The ministry assignment or project is the central focus for both ministries during the duration of the project.
- The cooperating ministry adjusts in structure and function to fulfill the mandate of the initiating ministry.
- The primary role of the cooperating ministry is to lend resources of time and people to ensure the success of the mandate of the initiating ministry.
- Aglow usually will only follow this model if the networking is agreed upon by the Worldwide Headquarters.
